Dear Frenchwoodite,

I receive many letters, but this was one that I wanted to pass on. I think French Woods' influence is very well described. Most of you will remember Alex as Sing General 2005.

Dear Ron,

I hope that everything at camp is running smoothly. Many campers have spoken to me and have already said that it's an awesome summer. Being away from French Woods for the first time in eight years is a very strange feeling. It's as if I perpetually am forgetting to do something, because staying home for the summer is so new to me. Marty and Fuzzy told me all about their short visit the other day. I won't pretend for a second that I wasn't jealous. Of course I won't be long to visit, I'm planning on driving up with the boys soon.

In the fall I called you with a dilemma. I was stuck with having to decide between doing the school plays again or signing with Gold Star Talent Management (which you also helped set up). After talking it over with you and my parents, I signed with Goldstar in October of 2005. This has opened up many new opportunities. I'm in the city every other day auditioning for various commercials, radio spots, TV pilots, feature films, and more. It was a great move forward for me, so again – thank you.

Recently, I have been keeping myself very busy. I've done a handful of student films, a few independent movies, and written, acted and directed my own films (which star numerous FW alumnus). In June, I was away for a few weeks filming a web-show called "In Turn". The show follows eight actors as they compete for a 13 week contract on CBS "As the World Turns". Unfortunately, they have me under contract, so I can't say too much about it without paying the five million dollar penalty. I can say that I encourage you (and the WHOLE CAMP!) to check it out.

Now for the most important page of the whole letter. In 1997, I went to my first sleep away camp. A neighborhood friend suggested I do it for eight weeks, so I did. I can't remember a time when I was more miserable than the summer of '97. The schedule was too rigid and my freedom to choose my activities did not exist. I came home early with no intention of ever returning not only to this camp, but to any camp whatsoever. The third grade went quickly, but I was still able to meet my partner in crime – Danny Tenzer. We decided to follow my sister Malorie's lead and try French Woods. There we met a certain bald, skinny kid named Marty (who at the time resembled Gollum from "Lord of the Rings", and Fuzzy, a kid who's lifelong objective is: to agitate. Eight years later we're as tight as ever. Your camp transformed me from a shy kid to an outgoing, fun, personable, confident man who gets all the ladies (who's telling this story? Me or you?). At camp, I discovered my passions, best friends, and permanent home. Ron, I would not be the person I am today with out you. I value our relationship very much and hold you in the same admiration, respect, and love of anybody I know.

Before I head off to another feature film audition, let me leave you with this quick anecdote. Last night, Marty Cohen, Fuzzy, Danny Tenzer, Ian Winograd, Scott McClain, and I met for dinner (as we regularly do). As we ate, we told stories of camp that made us all laugh and smile. I looked around the table and realized that my life was good... Really good! And it's all thanks to French Woods.

It's foolish for me to think I could capture my gratitude in words, but I tried. I hope you are well and ready to loose in chess. I will be visiting soon.

Forever indebted – Your friend and student,
Alex Charak

Alex was declared the winner of "In Turn" this summer and we hope that he continues to spend time at camp no matter where his career takes him.

Fondly,
Ron

Beth Backstage

We have just settled back into our home & organized ourselves back into the Florida office, only for Michael & I to head back north for the wedding of Erica Litke - one of my old cabin mates! The party looks like it will be a blast as I will get a chance to see many of the old crew. Many of them are having their own children now and I expect to see them at camp in a few years!

I've been going over the applications from last year's staff and so many of our favorite staff members will be back for round two (and sometimes three or more!) We have been going through the hiring fairs and camper fair schedule and will keep you informed when we'll be where - it's always great to have you stop by or even help out!

We have quite a bit planned for next summer already. A new larger cabin for the youngest boys is already under construction. It will house multiple cabins in one with a central common area just like the girls junior lodge. The show list looks excellent & I've even done some work on the show calendar for 2007.

You can view the centerfold of this newsletter to see how many of your friends will be back with us. Will you be there? We hope to see you in 2007!

All the best,
Beth

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU!!

Camper News

Nicole Marlin has been accepted into LaGuardia H.S. for the Performing Arts for vocal music. She is also in a show (with a theatre group called Applause) called Waiting for Life to Begin which will be performed on June 3rd and 4th at the Dicapo Opera Theatre.

Arianna Gass and Kristin Guerin just began rehearsals for their high school's production of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream. Arianna will be playing the role of Puck and Kristin will be playing Hermia.

Noah Weisbart will be performing the role of the soprano genie in the New York Metropolitan Opera's production of Die Zauberflote (The Magic Flute). There are 16 performances beginning October 7th through March 8th.

Brittany Champey is the President of her Future Veterinarians Club and she and Allison Cowett are the co-chairwomen of the Drama Club at their middle school.

Sydney Krulik will be performing in The Nutcracker with her dance troupe and will be performing in a production of The Emperor's New Clothes at the Day School.

Had any French Woods staff knocking on your door? Any achievements or performances we should know about? Let us know for future issues of "The Performer".

That's the news and we're outta here!!!

Isaac's Corner

As of October 1st, 2006, there are only 259 days until session 1, 2007 begins. There are only 277 days until session 2.

On the way home from camp, Kathy and I had the opportunity to see my grandchildren, Teddy, Lilly, and Danny, my son, Josh, and daughter-in-law, Lynn in New Hampshire. They are looking for a home in Newberry Port, Mass. My son just began working as an orthopedic surgeon at the Leahy Clinic. He now also has a professorship at Boston University. Lynn continues to work as a lawyer, while taking care of her family. I'm on my way up to see them again for Lilly's second birthday. The we swung down to NYC to see my mother and daughter Jennifer, who is interviewing for assistant principalships. I even got to spend some time with Alex and Ben Holtzman's mom as we are both working on a not for profit project. We also stopped in Maryland and had lunch with Geri Hulseay and her husband Steve. All the Hulseay's, Colin, Sam, and Lauren, are busy with school and sports.

We just missed seeing Nick and Tim from tennis who are baby sitting down in South Carolina for Venus' kids, Ryan and Josh.

I saw all of my boys that played on my basketball team and came to FWF this summer, including, Ryan, Nick, Joey, Alex, Reuben, Tyler, Danny, Ari, as well as Danny's brother Chris. We missed Arnau. They are all trying out for their high school basketball teams and I wish them the best of luck.

Joey Champey has been going to basketball conditioning at his high school and can't wait for the season to begin. Erin is now applying to colleges as she is now over a month into her senior year. Brittany has become the vice president of her thespian club. She is also the president of the future veterinarians' club. Brittany is an avid animal lover and conservationist. Very few of us know more about the animal world than Brittany Champey.

Many of you have asked me about Kathy, and I would like to report that she is doing much better. Thank you all for your concern and support.

My youngest nephew had his bar mitzvah last week. I also got to see my nephew Jared, and niece Sari (who now has two kids), who are both former Frenchwoodites.

I am planning on being in the Boston area during the early part of November and in LA in the latter part of November to visit with potential campers. Hopefully, I will be able to see some of our French Woods friends as well.

I should be visiting France again from March 10th through the 19th in 2007. Stay tuned for the details.

I am really excited about the happenings at camp. More on the building and programming in my next newsletter article.

By the way, I believe that this summer at French Woods was the best summer yet. I've been involved with French Woods for 25 years and it just gets better and better all of the time. Great kids, great staff, wonderful program and activities, what more can you ask for.

I keep hearing about all the staff that's traveling around the US and stopping off to spend time with our French Woods families who have opened their homes and hearts to them. That's also what French Woods is about.

Beth has already been in contact with so many of our staff that want to return next summer.

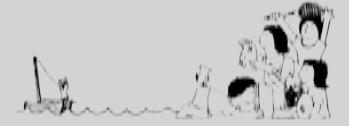

Well, it's time for me to sign off. So until next month.

Bye for now,
Isaac
